

State approval asked for inn's liquor license

The new Ramada Inn of Romulus, on Merriman Road near Detroit-Metropolitan Airport, has requested approval to purchase a resort license from a Livingston County business, according to a spokesman for the Michigan Liquor Control Commission in Lansing.

The Inn, as yet unopened, had requested a liquor license from the City of Romulus, but the city has not yet awarded the six licenses made available to it by the state.

Romulus was first apprised that it had six licenses to distribute in a letter from the Michigan Department of Commerce dated April 23, 1971, but in the 3½ months since have not decided who, among the more than 50 applicants for the licenses, should get them.

The Ramada Inn has also requested that, if the transfer is approved, the license be upgraded to a Class C denomination, which would allow not only the sale of beer and wine, which the present license does, but also the sale of spirits.

"Resort licenses are moveable," said the Liquor Commission spokesman. "Transfers are made at the discretion of the Commission."

It was also explained that approval or disapproval of the request for transfer would not be made until an investigation the commission authorized is completed.

The spokesman indicated that most resort transfers are denied, but each case is based on its own merits, so that there is no possible way to tell whether this one will be granted or denied.

The commission's investigation of such transactions usually takes approximately 45 days.

The license in question would be transferred from a resort business located in Green Oaks Township, near Brighton in Livingston County.

Although 85 percent of the renewal fees of licenses are turned over to the municipality in which they are located, the City of Romulus would have to waive all rights to any such fees this year, since the fees have already been disbursed in Green Oaks.

Contacted last week, before the release of the information concerning the transfer of licenses, Ramada Inn General Manager Michael W. Kabat said the Inn planned on opening unofficially on Aug. 22, but that the grand opening would not be determined until the liquor license problem had been resolved.

Kabat said that their request to the city had been sent some time ago. "But to the best of my knowledge, they (city council) have not discussed it."

"The most disappointing thing," Kabat said, "is that liquor by the glass is an integral part of our concept, and a very necessary part."

"If we were running a fast food operation here, it wouldn't

City officials get summonses

By JOE CHAREST
Romulus city officials and councilmen have been served with summonses in connection with a court suit aimed at forcing revisions in the zoning ordinance adopted May 6.

The seven councilmen, along with Mayor Hyle J. Carmichael and City Clerk Leonard J. Folmar, received summonses prior to or during last week's city council meeting.

proposed I-275 expressway was going to take through this land."

For that reason, the rezoning didn't happen at the time the petitioner first requested it, but it was incorporated into the new zoning map because, according to the councilman, "we felt that he had already spent enough money seeking the rezoning and shouldn't have to spend the money to do it again."

Concerning another complaint by the petitioners, the awarding of a multiple dwelling designation where the citizens in the area were opposed to more multiple dwellings, Bizek said "We changed five acres on Eureka Road to multiple at the request of the owner."

He said the area surrounding the parcel in question is zoned multiple.

"I want to make it plain that I am not against sitting down with the advisory group on the areas concerned. But I am against putting the map back to the original proposals."

Bizek concluded that he thought the proper channel for the petitioners' complaints was through the Planning Commission.

The suit, filed by Attorney Ernest Ryback, contains two

The suit was initiated when the council refused to accept petitions for a referendum on the zoning ordinance.

Wayne County Circuit Court Judge Charles S. Farmer will hear the case next Wednesday.

Edmund Bizek. In an petition drive and defended the council's action in rejecting the petitions.

"The City of Romulus hires an attorney to provide a legal background," Bizek said. "That attorney works for the city in much the same way as the attorney general works for the state."

"I think, when the attorney gives the council an opinion, that we must go by that until the courts decide differently. I think we must bank on them to a certain extent."

Bizek said that he definitely was not opposed to sitting down with the people who were unhappy with the zoning ordinance and negotiating. But he said he was opposed to returning to the original zoning ordinance as proposed by the Citizens Advisory Committee.

He said that commitments had been made on the basis of the zoning law as it had been finally approved and that some construction had even begun.

Bizek also said that some of the zoning changes objected to by the opposing advisory group were made at the request of citizens owning the land.

Concerning a gas station zoning that the advisory group opposes, Bizek, explained that the owner of the land had spent money several years ago to seek rezoning of his property for a service station.

"But, at that time," Bizek said, "the State Highway Department didn't know the particular path that the

PCHA election ruling supported by court

By JOE CHAREST
DETROIT — A petition calling for a special meeting of the Peoples Community Hospital Authority (PCHA) to elect new officers has been denied by Wayne County Circuit Court Judge James Montante.

The suit, which was initiated by Elmer Parraghi, Sumpter Township supervisor and a member of PCHA Board of Directors, was the result of a denial by Chairman Donald J. Pizzimenti to hold a new election meeting at the request of Parraghi and two other board members.

The three claimed that there was an irregularity which nullified the regular election last February, an election which gave Pizzimenti another year at the head of the board by only a one-vote margin.

Judge Montante held, however, that the plaintiffs have no clear legal right to another election, in view of the fact that an election was already held this year.

Morante said that, if the majority of the board wanted to pass a new set of regulations governing elections, they could do so. However, it should be done at a regular meeting and with normal notice given.

The court suit was the latest skirmish in a continuing fight among sharply divided factions on the PCHA board.

Also leading the fight was Walter Sudak, a Southgate councilman. Sudak's fellow councilmen voted him off the authority board temporarily last month, citing among other reasons his association with Kenneth Gremore, former PCHA director who is trying to clear himself of the charges of mismanagement which got him thrown out of his job in 1966.

Another major factor for Sudak's ouster was said to be his attendance record at board meetings, which ran well below 50 per cent.

He returned to the board two weeks later, however, after convincing Jerry DeSana, another councilman, that his attendance would improve.

At almost the same time Sudak polled more votes for reelection to his city council seat than anyone running in Southgate's recent primary.

Gremore was present at Montante's courtroom when the judge reached his decision.

Neither Gremore nor his attorney Henry Zaborowski, who is also Sumpter Township's attorney, indicated whether or not the verdict would be appealed.

Miracle begins for McGinnis'

By BEVERLY McANNALLY
A neighbor's appeal for a miracle in behalf of the Arnold McGinnis family has brought an outpouring of sympathy and offers of help.

Mrs. Eva McGinnis is suffering from an incurable cancer which, her doctors say, will take her life soon. Her greatest concern is for the welfare of her husband and their six daughters who range in age from four to 13 years.

She has an unwavering faith that God will see them through their troubles.

Their neighbor, Rick Franz, who took action to bring the family's plight to the attention of the community, reports that things have started to happen.

"I asked the people to get behind this family," he said, "and it looks like they're going to do it."

Among those who have joined Franz in his efforts is the Van Buren Homeowners Association. Members have contacted Belleville businessmen asking for assistance, and they have been generous, reported Mrs. Betty Ottewill, vice chairman for the group. She is concerned about the cost of Mrs. McGinnis's prescriptions.

"They cost so much; it would help if we could find someone who would donate those," she stated. The group is also planning a food drop-off station where residents could leave canned food contributions.

Another group that has rallied to the cause is the Van Buren Civic Association.

With sheriff's department

Police contract signed

After months of discussion between city and county some of it not at all friendly - the Romulus-Wayne County police contract was signed yesterday by County Sheriff William Lucas and Romulus Mayor Hyle J. Carmichael.

The signing came after the City Council issued its final approval to the pact, which has had many revisions since it was first proposed last year. Council approved the measure, 6-1, at last week's regular meeting. James C. Stewart dissented.

The contract comes at a time when the Romulus Police Department has been reduced to five members from an original 10-man force.

When the county takes over, Romulus citizens will immediately have their protection tripled, with a 16-man force serving only the City of Romulus.

In addition to the large manpower increase, the city will also have available the full investigative resources of the Sheriff's Road Patrol, which includes such extras as the narcotics squad and extensive laboratory facilities.

Word is expected soon on what position within the city administration will be taken by Jacob J. Koch, Romulus' police chief, who was not part of the contract package.

Indications are that Koch may be the city's ordinance officer, a job being created within the newly organized Planning and Community Development Department.

The original contract was designed to cover five

Proposal to specify trailer park spaces

Romulus Building Manager Clayton Meldrum has presented an ordinance to city council which would amend present rules governing mobile home courts.

The council is expected to take affirmative action on the amendment at Thursday's council session.

The new law revises regulations for trailer spacing and construction of trailer pads. They include:

— Space between trailer coaches may be used for the parking of motor vehicles if the space is clearly designated and the vehicle is parked at least 10 feet from the nearest adjacent trailer coach;

— There shall be unobstructed open spaces of at least 20 feet between the sides or end and sides of adjacent trailer coaches for the full length of the coaches and at least 10 feet of unobstructed open space between the ends of adjacent trailer coaches; hitches shall not extend beyond the boundary lines of the sites;

— Trailer coaches shall not be parked less than 10 feet from a building, a public street or alley, nor less than three feet from the boundary of any trailer coach park; when an area for motor vehicle parking is provided other than on a site or street right of way, motor vehicles shall be parked at least 10 feet from the sides of trailer coaches and three feet from the ends of trailer coaches;

— After the effective date of this 1971 amendatory act, for those lots added to an existing park and all lots in a new park, the 10-foot distance specified above will be increased to 12 feet if any trailer coach involved is in excess of 12 feet wide.

The section of the new ordinance on pads specifies that "all pads shall conform with trailer size, so as to allow skirting to cement on all four sides."

This means that the pads will be a minimum of 12 feet by 50 feet, since trailers are seldom smaller these days. Each pad will be at least four inches thick "or of equal bearing strength."

A THOUGHT TO REMEMBER

BY HAROLD REDISKE, DIRECTOR

We all have emotions whether we are emotional or not. Love, hate, trust, pride, fear, resentment, sympathy, laughter, joy, sorrow and anger are only some of our emotions. At times, because of restrained inner emotion, we try not to show outer emotion.

For example, we can and should say words of kindness; we can and should express our love to loved ones. At times, because of shyness or pride, the words are not said. Pride or stubbornness, for example, break up homes when kind words could avoid it. In times of bereavement, kind words are often said but the words can not be heard by the one for whom the words would have meant a lot.

We can and should press affection when affection exists. Fancy words are not needed. Some people say they don't have to say such things because the loved one knows it anyway. Maybe so. Maybe not. Why risk it? We should never be reluctant or refuse to say the nice to hear things. We deepen our own sorrow when the words are said too late. That sort of sorrow is a hard to dispel emotion of our own making.

Trailer park extends paving

A plan to pave two of the major thoroughfares in the Royal Village Mobile Home Park has been expanded to include the paving of other streets in the park.

Owner Dr. Leslie Moss has signed contracts with Metropolitan Asphalt Co., Romulus, for asphaltizing Turbo Street from Van Born south, Bonanza to Metro, and Panam from Metro to Air Coach.

Work on this and the other improvements planned, which was to start today, will be completed as soon as possible, according to Romulus Building Manager Clayton Meldrum.
Other projects to improve the park include the replacement of storm drains on Metro, Air Borne and Piper repair of all streets not being paved, and installation of 25-foot light poles with mercury vapor lights.

All vacant mobile home pads are being repaired to bring them up to city codes before use.

Repairs being made at Royal Village are the result of cooperation between Moss and the city following numerous complaints from residents in the mobile home court.

City, union officials set meet

Union officials and officials from the City of Romulus were expected to meet last night to discuss a counter-proposal to the contract offered by the city.

Teamsters Local 214 of the State, County and Municipal Workers Union submitted the counter-proposal last week.

The city presented a contract proposal to the union July 30. The city employees whose contract expired April 14, voted at that time to replace their AFL-CIO Council 23 representation with the Teamsters local.

Upon receiving the contract proposal from the city, Local President Joseph Valenti explained what the union was seeking for Romulus employees.

Valenti said that they are seeking wages for city workers which are comparable to those received by workers by other Detroit suburbs with incomes comparable to Romulus.

The comparison was compiled to show average wages from such cities.

Valenti indicated that the averages were put together, using figures from five communities with which the union has recently completed negotiations. They are Sterling Heights, Redford, Madison Heights, Birmingham and Hazel Park.

be crucial, but that isn't what we are hoping to create."

Kabat added that he does not consider Ramada Inn as being in competition with local lounges, since the liquor sold in the Inn would be largely to a transient clientele.

According to Kabat, the city council would still have to approve a transfer. He says that the Liquor Commission, as far as he knows, has recently asked the Romulus council to make a determination in the matter.

Kabat does not think that MLCC will approve the transfer without a recommendation from Romulus.

Players' first effort gets warm reception

By BEVERLY MCANALLY

The Romulus City Players, sponsored by the Romulus Recreation Department, presented their first theatrical effort on Friday and Saturday evenings last week.

Directed by David Ferdon, the fledgling group of amateur thespians performed "Paddle Your Own Canoe" to small, but appreciative, audiences.

Opening night, which drew the largest audience, found the auditorium more than half full. The second night crowd was estimated at about 50.

The play opened with a curtain scene of a wedding party with guests congratulating the newlyweds at the reception. If the viewers thought some of those in the reception line looked especially familiar they were right. Good sports Jimmy Stewart, city councilman, and Leonard Folmar, city clerk, "got into the act" by invitation to get the city-sponsored program off to a good start.

The cast, who had been working on the project for only about six weeks, gave convincing characterizations. Becky Johnson as Marie Folee, mother of the bride, showed a flair for comedy, after recovering from the initial shock of getting her first laugh. "We hadn't performed before," she said. "In fact, we hadn't even all got together for a full dress rehearsal before," she explained.

Cathy Wilson was believable as the bride and frustrated homemaker trying to live by the Government Manuel for Foresters. She and her groom, Knute, played by Gary Myers, kept things moving despite a few delays for memory lapses and costume changes.

Bill Crook, as Mac McGregor, a recluse who came to the aid of all during their northwoods tribulations, handled the long and involved curtain monologues professionally. Crook, a seasoned performer, turned in one of his better portrayals.

The supporting cast — Mike Morgan, Gloria Chandler, Adell Austin, Brenda Blanton, Denese Ryan, Yvette Austin, Flora Kropat, June Blanton, Greg Roundtree, Curt Savage, Mike Lewkowicz and Larry Dorenzo — all showed talent that should forecast more ambitious undertakings in the future.

Some of the averages are presented below: Persons in labor classifications earn an average wage of $4.01 per hour, Valenti reported that Romulus was offering $3.76. Equipment operators in these communities average $4.49 per hour, and Romulus offered $3.93½.

Heavy equipment operators average $4.98, with Romulus presently offering $4.26.

Meter readers in the averaged cities received $4.25, while Romulus is offering $3.69½.

Although some of the pay raises being offered by the city appear to be substantial, Valenti claims that they appear so because

Romulus has paid such low wages in the past. "We are not looking at the percentages where salary increases are concerned," the union spokesman said, "because percentage raises are only good if your salary is where it is supposed to be to start with."

Valenti said that, if Romulus can satisfactorily show the union that the cities included in the wage comparison in reality have much higher incomes, Local 214 would have to re-evaluate its position.

In addition to the financial package, the union is also studying various nonmonetary points in the proposal from the city.

Important as talented actors are, scenery and effects can enhance a performance. It should be noted that the staging for "Paddle Your Own Canoe" was difficult.

To achieve the effect of northwoods fire tower, Lewkowicz and Ferdon designed a two-art structure, separated by a gauze scrim that permitted action to take place convincingly at the bottom of the tower on the left hand side of the stage and subsequent action at the top of the tower located to the right. The effect was achieved by some excellent lighting by Ann Hutton.

To create the atmosphere of a deep forest, a full stage cyclorama of jack pines and lake shores was created by artist June Blanton, who also had a part in the play.

Others who also helped with staging and effects, in addition to all cast members, were: Fred Williams, Andrea Payne, Aaron Chandler, Kathryn Zaika and Ted Martin, whose simulated tent looked quite campworthy.

The prompters whispers belonged to Andrea McAnally, between the scenes music was played by Gregg Roundtree.

Ticket sales and ushering duties were contributed by the Webelos and Boy Scouts of Troop 735, Joseph Cusmano leader.

One cast member summed it up: "I had such a good time, and really enjoyed working with all the others. I saw a different perspective to the young as well as the older members of the community. I can't wait until they cast another play."

There must be something to that old saw about the smell of the greasepaint and the roar of the crowd.

Romulus cyclist dies in accident

A Romulus resident was killed over the weekend when the motorcycle he was driving slammed into an automobile. Sammy Lee Gau, 27, of 35577 Garner, was pronounced dead on arrival at Wayne County General Hospital.

Gau was reportedly traveling at an excessive rate of speed without lights when he struck a car pulling onto Cherry Hill from Clair Street in Garden City.

Police identified the driver of the auto as Walter Rozenbajgier, 66, of Detroit. He will not be charged because of the accident, police say.

Gau was buried Monday from L. J. Griffin Funeral Home, Detroit. His body is interred at St. Hedwig's Cemetery in Dearborn Heights.

The victim is survived by his wife Sandra and two children, Richard and Robin; also by his parents Andrew and Betty Jane and his brothers, Andrew and James, and a sister, Sandra.

elements. The first states that the people have the legal right to a referendum on the ordinance; the second argues that unauthorized changes were made by people not empowered to make such changes.

Ryback told council members just prior to their voting down the petitions, "we feel that you have a moral obligation to handle city affairs in public, and not behind closed doors."

He said private sessions prohibited the people from expressing themselves to public officials they elected.

Q.

My husband and I were planning to purchase Cemetery Plots and then Gravemarkers, but a friend informed us that not only is it improper but also illegal to have your name and birthdate on a Monument or Marker prior to death. Is this true?

A.

No. You were misinformed. In many parts of the United States it is a common practice to take care of such matters beforehand, thus avoiding the confusion.

In our opinion

Romulus police pact is worthwhile step

After months of negotiations, marked with outbursts both in the Wayne County Board of Commissioners and Romulus City Council, a police contract between the two sides has been signed.

There are those in the city who still are opposed to the contract. At least two councilmen have said they will continue their fight to establish a city-run police force, although the soonest such a force could be established is following the expiration of the three-year pact signed yesterday.

The bitter feelings on the part of these councilmen may remain, and they certainly have a right to bring up the subject of a city force again.

But one thing everyone should realize is that a measure which will automatically triple the police protection and services for the people of Romulus is an experiment worth making.

Rather than a depleted force of five men and two police cars in questionable condition, the city will have 24-hour protection from 16 men from the Road Patrol.

These are not men who will cover, as well, Van Buren and Huron Townships and other neighboring communities. They will be permanently assigned to the City of Romulus and will function outside of the city only during emergencies, through the mutual aid pact with surrounding communities.

Along with this vast increase in manpower, Romulus will have available the large resources of the Wayne County Sheriff's Department, resources that a community the size of this one could never hope to duplicate.

We think the residents of Romulus are assured of vastly improved police services, not because the old force was incompetent, but because of the great resources available through this contract.

When the citizens notice the change, we think they will be satisfied that the money needed for this contract is money well spent.

In years gone by...

A look through The Daily Eagle files at news of Western Wayne County one, 15 and 25 years ago:

25 YEARS AGO

Aug. 11, 1946 -- Street signs for 56 intersections have been received by the Village, it was announced by Director-Engineer Robert D. Heitsch. Installation has been completed in the Harroun Park area with the rest to be put up in the near future.

The signs are of gumwood, black and white letters on a black background. According to village officials, tests made by other municipalities reveal that signs of this type combine good visibility length of life and low cost better than other types.

Boy Scout troop No. 12, sponsored by the V.F.W., returned from a camping trip to Wampplers Lake. Scoutmaster Bob Ketchum and wife spent the week camping with the boys, and in spite of cold weather, they all report a successful time.

Teaching staff for the six schools of the newly consolidated Sumpter Township district was announced by Mrs. Ida Weller, President of the Sumpter board of education. There is just one vacancy; applications are still being considered for Mosebar School. Appointments already made are as follows:

West Sumpter School upper grades, Muriel McKenzie; lower grades, Jean McKenzie. Bone School upper grades, Mary Buege; lower grades, Lena Frigard. Clayton School will be taught by Wilma Pepper. Smithville School's teacher will be Marian Hartwick. Martinsville school will have Ralph Denny as teacher of the upper grades and Muriel Smith for the lower grades.

15 YEARS AGO

Aug. 11, 1956 -- A list of Wayne manufacturers was the first project turned out by a new duplicating machine purchased by the Wayne Chamber of Commerce.

The duplicator is electrically operated and is capable of turning out 5,000 sheets an hour. Its next big job will be to turn out a roster of paid-up members of the Chamber of Commerce.

Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Sielke, Sr., of Barton, just returned from a pleasant trip to Pt. Aus Gres, Mich., near Saginaw. They stayed in a cottage near the lake and really enjoyed the fishing. The total of fish caught in the week was approximately 100 - and they were perch too!

Last week ten families from the Guardian Lutheran church attended Camp Pioneer at Angela, N.Y.

At the Lutheran camp their days were spent in daily religious discussions led by Dr. Win of St. Louis, Mo., in active sports, swimming and Christian fellowship.

Construction has begun on a $325,000 hall for UAW Local 900 of the Wayne Lincoln-Mercury plant on Van Born rd., near Middlebelt in Romulus township.

Available for community functions as well as union events the building will be called Unity House.

ONE YEAR AGO
Aug. 11, 1970 -- Wayne Community School District's Student Placement Center has been open only a half week, yet results are encouraging enough to declare it a success, reports Robert P. Shaw, coordinator of the program.

Shaw said that the program worked well because many employers realized the value of having an office where a ready source of manpower was available.

Finance Director Leonard Bartos requested that the city council grant an extension on the deadline for payment of city taxes until Sept. 1, because Wayne County, which prints up the city's tax bills, has not been able to get the bills printed by the July 1 deadline.

Originally, the city tax bills were to be mailed out before Aug. 15.

For the last two years, including the presidential elections Garden City has been the first in the area to have its election tabulation in.

The city has all the 17 precincts and absentee ballots counted by 9:10 p.m. By 9:30 p.m. they were counted twice and ready to distribute.

Pat Fitzpatrick, Michelle Loritz and Randy Schnizler are winners for the three divisions in a tennis tournament sponsored by the Inkster Parks and Recreation Department.

The Target

The animals that never were (?)

By KAY SEMION

Armed with a camera and a notebook, Lothar Konietzko and I took off for the wildlands of Westland (that's the shopping center) in search of a red elephant.

The sun was beating down on our backs with the fierceness of a lion's roar. We pushed through the greenery (some electric wires were dyed green). We wiped the sweat from our brows.

"We're looking for the red elephant," Lothar said to the first man we encountered.

"Huh?" responded the ringmaster of the circus, which performed last week in the parking lot of the shopping center. "A red elephant. Don't you have a red elephant? We were told you have a red elephant here," Lothar continued.

The man just stared at us.

"There's supposed to be an elephant here who ate some red paint," I added. "He's supposed to have red paint all over him."

The man started laughing. "I don't know of anything like that."

On to the next man.

"Do you have a red elephant here? One that got into red paint and you can't get it off?" I asked.

"Not that I know of," he replied, giving me a strange look.

Everyone gave us the same answer. Then we watched the elephants come out of the ring.

"I don't see a red elephant," I said, looking the three huge animals over closely.

"I think we've been sent on a wild goose chase," said Lothar.

"Correction, a red elephant chase," I declared.

The red elephant chase will probably be dubbed for every story we're clued about that turns out to be more fiction than fact. We'll never know how the story was started, but this is the way it finally reached us:

A man was viewing the circus and called the manager to tell him he enjoyed the show, but added, "Why do you have to be so cruel to your animals?"

"I don't understand what you mean," the manager replied.

'With my knees, I'm not so sure...!'

Business Mirror

Profit, pollution aren't hand in hand

NEW YORK (AP) — Those who believe that pollution control must be paid for out of lower corporate profits and higher consumer prices may find their thinking changed a bit by results of a study that is still continuing.

The preliminary conclusion, a decided surprise even to its authors, is that companies ranked high in concern for the environment need not be less profitable and may in fact be financially stronger because of their concern.

"It was a conclusion I hadn't expected," said John Marlin, an assistant professor of finance and economics at Baruch College here and a the most successful companies in the pulp and paper industry are the very ones ranked highest in protecting the air and water environment in which they operate.

the case appears conclusive. "We may modify and qualify the findings," he said, "but it is unlikely that we'll change the basic conclusions."

One result, he believes, is that the outlook for pollution control may not be as bleak as once thought. From the corporate point of view, he says, the emphasis has been on costs rather than benefits.

And what are the benefits? The most likely fallout of a good environmental record may be in lower operating costs in areas such as labor, health insurance, maintenance, local taxes, legal fees, fines.

Another possibility is that "clean" companies may have lower costs in raising capital because a favorable corporate image may command slightly higher stock prices and lower borrowing costs.

And not to be overlooked is the possibility that buyers may direct their purchases to those companies with the best record in pollution control. Marlin feels that this benefit may assume larger proportions in the future.

"Well, there was blood on one of the elephants where it had been whipped."

The manager checked into the situation and discovered that the blood was red paint. The elephant had somehow gotten a can of red paint, put it in his mouth and crushed it.

The red paint spilled all over the front of his body.

There was no way to remove the paint. Turpentine might hurt the animal. So the circus men decided to let the red paint wear off.

That story produced some skepticism on the part of the office staff the next day when we received word there was a cougar loose from the Detroit Zoo in the area near Haggerty and Cherry Hill roads.

"Oh sure, it's red and it says 'merp,'" I thought.

There were policemen in three cars out there trying to find it, we learned. But the last word was it had not even been sighted.

"I don't know what it is," a man on the scene supposedly said. "But it runs fast and has a lot of teeth."

Lottery advocates need petition help

To the editor:

Since the State of Michigan doesn't enforce the laws against bingo or gambling, such as the Irish Sweepstakes, anyway, why can't the state run a lottery, with the proceeds going back to the state?

New York has done well with its lottery. I can't see why we can't do the same. The Citizens for Sweepstakes Association, Inc., has been formed to collect 300,000 signatures of registered voters in the state so the votes can vote in November, 1972 if they want a lottery for Michigan. The lottery would be run by the state.

Since the raising of 300,000 names of registered voters is quite a task, help is needed from all sectors of the state. Those people wishing to see the question voted upon by the people can help out by calling or writing for petitions at the following numbers or addresses:

Neighbor objects to apartment zoning

To the editor:

The Van Buren Township Planning Commission has recommended a zoning change from RIB to RM (from single residential to multiple dwelling) and 24 acres of vacant land on Huron River Drive between Haggerty Road and Hannan Road. That is across the street from me.

I object! I have been objecting publicly and privately since May. It seems that very, very few citizens of the city or township would want more multiple dwellings built, mainly because of the school situation. But there are quite a few other objections.

Everyone I have contacted says, "Something has to be done." I agree. The only thing I can think of is for each and every one of us to let our elected and appointed officials know of our objections.

We do have a master plan for the township. The very least that can be done is to stop rezoning and follow that master plan until a new plan is drawn up and the Willow Run Airport situation is cleared up.

Who knows what will happen there? I am writing an open letter of objection to our planning commission and township board. Won't you join me by also writing to the editor? If enough of us write, there is a possibility that our officials will pay heed to the citizens they represent.

Immunization clinic scheduled in Romulus

Does your child have full protection against polio, rubella and smallpox? Is it time for a tetanus booster?

The Wayne County Department of Health is sponsoring a special immunization clinic to help make sure children are protected.

A special immunization clinic will be held on Monday, Aug. 16, 9 a.m. to 12 p.m., at Romulus Methodist Church, 11190 Olive St. near Goddard. No appointment is necessary. The regularly scheduled Child Health Clinic will be held in the afternoon by appointment only.

The clinic will be staffed by public health nurses from the Wayne County Department of Health. The staff will be assisted by community volunteers.

Mothers of pre-school and school-age children are encouraged to bring their children. There is a nominal charge of $1 per person. Residents of Romulus and Wayne and Van Buren, Sumpter, Huron townships are welcome.

The special day-long immunization clinic was planned especially to help parents meet the state immunization requirements for children entering school for the first time. Children are required by law to immunized against diphtheria, tetanus, whooping cough, measles, rubella, polio and smallpox.

Yet in spite of these requirements, a large number of Detroit and Wayne County children are inadequately protected against these once dreaded diseases, according to the health departments. According to the 1970 U.S. Immunization Survey the level of protective immunity against polio, measles and diphtheria among preschool children was significantly lower in 1970 than in 1969.

The threat of these diseases is always present to unimmunized persons. The health department advises parents not to wait until just before a child enters school and is legally required to obtain these immunizations.

Private physicians as well as public clinics can provide these necessary immunizations. For more information about the health department clinics, call 274-2800, extension 6891.

Police contract, lawsuit concern city council

Acceptance of a city-county police contract and referral of court summons for the recently initiated zoning suit were main items for the Romulus City Council last week.

After some discussion, the police contract finally was approved. Council President Jimmie C. Raspberry pointed out that Romulus recognizes the still-existing contract of the Romulus Police Officers Association (RPOA).

"I want it to be a matter of record," Raspberry said, "that any officer who wants to stay on as an employee of the city can stay during the duration of the RPOA's contract with the city."

The contract lasts through most of 1972. Raspberry made it clear that the city intended to live up to the intent of that contract, and that the officers could exercise their seniority in seeking city jobs in their classification.

Raspberry said he felt it was also important to point out that those automobiles assigned from the sheriff's department were going to be used strictly for Romulus, and not for other areas except through the mutual aid pact in emergency situations.

The only dissenting vote was cast by James C. Stewart.

The council, mayor and city clerk received summons in connection with the zoning suit filed last Tuesday. The council voted to direct them to the legal department for whatever action was necessary.

Romulus Librarian Miss Diane Cover read a quarterly report citing progress in the library due greatly to the move to the new facility.

The report indicated that circulation was up more than 100 per cent from the figures for July, 1970.

She also stated that more than 4,000 new volumes were now on the shelves, increasing the total collection to 19,155.

Miss Cover said that the library is now open four days a week until 9 p.m. She stated that the longer hours and the expanded book collection and seating space will allow greater student use in the fall.

The council approved the renewal of a business license for Romulus Recreation. City officials indicated that the annual inspections had been successfully carried out.

The council also approved the signing of a letter of intent which supports a study by Parkins, Rodgers and Associates dealing with the proposed I-275 expressway, which will cut through a portion of southwest Romulus.

The study will provide the city with important information concerning zoning needs and what effect the expressway will have on the city.

The Romulus Jaycees' donation of three litter barrels for the municipal complex was disclosed by the mayor and accepted by the council.

Another decision allocated $500 for a city drug program. Earl Lamb, of the Romulus School District, had made a presentation to the council several weeks ago outlining what such a program would accomplish.

The city is seeking a place to house the drug program.

Also sought is storage space for the winter for equipment belonging to the Romulus Recreation Commission. It will possibly be stored in a DPW building or in a city-owned garage near the old city hall.

The mayor, in his report, relayed an invitation for all councilman to join a crowd scene in the Romulus City Players production "Paddle Your Own Canoe," last Friday and Saturday. The councilmen appeared a little reluctant to commit themselves.

Council President Jimmie C. Raspberry requested that the mayor prepare a report on the amount of overtime by city employees and also a monthly financial report.

Bids were accepted for a combination tractor and backhoe and an air compressor.

William F. Sell and Son will provide the tractor at a cost of $9,560.69. The compressor will come from the R.G. Moeller Co. and cost $3,845. Bids were also authorized for the purchase of one more of each item.

The council also indicated it will be studying proposed ordinances on subdivision control and mobile home parks for possible action at the next council session Thursday.

FLAGGING IN A WINNER in the Southeastern Michigan Snowmobile Drag races is an official of the Wayne County

Sportsman's Club, which was host for the Saturday event.

Sportsmen's club 'revs it up'

The Wayne County Sportsman's Club was host for the Michigan International Snowmobile Association's sanctioned drag race last Saturday in Romulus.

More than 1,200 spectators sat in chairs, near tables and under tents to watch the 115 registered entries compete at speeds up to 90 m.p.h.

The Sportsmen's Club's snowmobile and environmental projects will be aided by the admission fees, which go for such projects as the Rouge River Clean-up.

In the feature race, snowmobiles versus motorcycles, two cyclists entered, but one was thrown off his cycle at the start of the race. The snowmobile, a modified Arctic Cat driven by R.H. Hamilton, won the event, ran the quarter-mile course in nine seconds.

The Highway Emergency Team, a non-profit organization, helped with parking and policing the club grounds.

A spokesman for that group, Mrs. Carmen Kalman, said they patrol the highways and expressways, principally I-75 and I-94, on weekends to help motorists in distress.

Miss Garnet Zilka of Romulus, who raced in the Powderpuff event, won third place in the "AA" modified race.

The Grassball Cup Relay

Race between township and city officials was also run. The cities of Romulus and Rockwood and the townships of Brownstown and Van Buren participated.

Mayor Howard Ditner of Rockwood and his relay man Don Wandrack took the cup for the second year in a row.

Mobile Home Cost

Some persons will argue that the house and real estate will increase in value during a 30-year period. This is possible, depending on the pressure for the use of the land on which the house stands. Houses apart from the land decrease in value. Some houses and lots are worth more and some less in 30 years.

Dollars Worth Less

Stories or testimonials about a house selling for more than the owner paid for it invariably omit any consideration of inflation during the period of time between purchase and sale. A typical example is one about an owner selling a 50-year old house for $20,000 which had cost $5,000. This is told to represent an increase in value of the house.

During the 50 years, inflation has caused the dollar to be worth about ten cents or a change of one-tenth in value. Therefore, to recover the cost of the house at this time would require a sale price of $50,000. So, does the sale price of $20,000 against a cost of $5,000 at today's dollar value represent an increase in value? By the error of omission of the dollar's value, the myth is promoted that houses increase in value.

Sheer Speculation

House value and inflation taken at short range require an addition of three to four percent to the price of the house each year to offset a decrease in the purchasing power of the dollar. A $20,000 house has to sell for $20,600 after one year or $23,000 to recover the original value of dollars paid for it after five years.

However, it must be recognized, that for the long range, an obligation contracted at a specific time is paid for with less valuable dollars due to inflation. It is sheer speculation to say how much the property will be worth in 30 years!

COST OF OWNING A HOUSE FOR 30 YEARS

Total cost of buying a $20,000 house and lot on an FHA mortgage at 8 1/2% interest for 30 years with $5000 down payment. One-half percent mortgage insurance is included at the time of purchase.

Direct Costs
1/2% FHA Mortgage Insurance	$ 750.00
Closing Costs	200.00
Down Payment	5,000.00
Mortgage Principal	15,000.00
Interest on Mortgage	28,085.00
Taxes at '69 rates on assessed value (1/2 market value) projected for the 30 years	18,300.00
Maintenance at 3% of value of house per year	14,400.00
Insurance (home owners)	2,160.00
	$ 83,895.00

Indirect Costs

Interest on down payment at 5% compounded for 30 years	$ 21,600.00
Interest on owner's increasing equity as mortgage is paid during 30 years	23,371.00
	$ 44,971.00

TOTAL COST

Average monthly cost for 30 years	$ 128,866.00
$128,866 divided by 360 months	$ 358.00

Some home buyers resist counting the interest on their capital invested in the real estate. The direct monthly costs which they must pay out are as follows:

Monthly payment for mortgage, interest, taxes, and insurance	$ 177.00
Average monthly maintenance cost	40.00
Furnishings cost (avg. per month)	15.00
Monthly water and sewer charges (in area where example costs are taken)	5.00
TOTAL	$ 237.00

These figures do not include utilities such as light, heat or power. Neither are common expenses for lawn and yard care, extra plantings of flowers, shrubbery, et cetera, included which many home owners will add.

If monthly maintenance costs are avoided or postponed, the money paid out per month will be approximately $200 before utilities. These costs necessitate a head of household minimum income of $200 per week to live in $20,000 house.

On a $15,000 mortgage at the end of five years, the owner has paid $675 of the mortgage principal. (He still owes $14,325.00 of the principal).

Sales Costs 6 per cent of $20,000 = $1,200.00

Amount paid on principal = $675.00

If the owner sells for $20,000 he will lose $525 of his down payment or equity money. Or he will have to sell for $20,525 to have the number of dollars equal his position five years before.

Inflation affects his position, too. At 3 per cent average inflation per year for five years, his dollars will buy 15 per cent less or he must get 15 per cent more dollars to be able to do as much with the money as he did five years before. The seller must get $3,000 more dollars added to the $20,000 to offset the effect of inflation.

The houseowner will have income tax savings from the deductions resulting from interest and real estate tax payments. This value ($20,000) house is afforded by a $10,000 per year income head of household. Assuming an ordinary family of two children, the income tax savings at this income level will be approximately $20 per month for the years with two dependent children. If 20 years is assumed for dependents, the total tax advantage is $4800.

Purchaser Speculating

There is a widespread belief as one makes payments for a house that his equity increases - he is investing - therefore he is saving - he is building value in something. "All you have to do is buy the house and you will make money." "If you are able to live only a few years in an area, you can't lose if you buy a house." These are myths. These ideas are propagated by real estate dealers, builders, lenders, or anyone whose business profits from the belief in these myths.

Summarizing, the seller of the $20,000 property must add $3,000 for inflation effect, $1200 sales commission, totaling $24,200 to be able to do as much with his money as when he bought the property five years before.

Therefore, the purchaser is speculating that five years after purchasing he can sell a $20,000 property for $24,200. Sometimes this can be done and often it cannot. In addition, the owner must have maintained the property in as good condition as it was five years before. This means fresh painting, cleaning, et cetera, to have it in saleable condition without a buyer discounting the property accordingly.

Cost of Owning a Mobile Home

The cost of purchasing a 12' x 60' two-bedroom mobile home. This home includes appliances and furnishings. It is suitable for the small family, young or old.

The interest payments on the purchase contract are deductible in computing income tax. This will amount to several dollars a month to the owner depending on his income and number of dependents.

POINTERS ON THE PERFECT SWING — Peter Molzer (right) of Austria, watches as Van Buren tennis instructor Bill Loyd gives his wife, Elsi, some pointers on the game. The Molzers will return to Austria next month with a solid knowledge of the game, learned with hours of evening practice.

Visiting Austrians relate differences in countries

By Beverly McAnally

When the Peter Molzer family returns to Austria next month after an eight-month stay in Michigan, they will take with them, in addition to their possessions, some newly developed athletic skills and a few impressions about America.

Molzer, who is a chemist, and his wife, Elsi, are a handsome Viennese couple. They, and their two-year-old daughter, Sonja, have lived at the Lake Villa Apartments near Belleville while Peter completed an instructional assignment at Guardian Coatings Corporation in Romulus.

This spring and summer they have taken advantage of the public recreation programs offered both in Van Buren Township, where they live, and in Romulus where Molzer works.

pools and organized recreation programs have impressed the couple. "We do not have these things at home," they agree. But Molzer emphasized that in Vienna anyone who works and earns a wage at all is easily able to afford long vacations at the sea. He thinks two weeks on the ocean would be very expensive in America and beyond the reach of most working people.

Another subtle difference

Molzer notes between Americans and Austrians is in the national favorite sport. In Austria soccer matches draw thousands to watch, but few amateur soccer teams play on a league basis. In America the national sport of baseball is played enthusiastically by almost everybody on every available vacant lot and playground.

This year Molzer has played centerfield with the Romulus Adult Softball League. "I have really enjoyed it," he said.

"They were very patient with me while I learned how to catch and throw."

The Molzers say they will miss America, not only for the sports and recreational facilities they have grown to enjoy, but also for its comforts.

They like their apartment, which is on the ground level with sliding glass panels to the outdoors. Their apartment in Vienna is upstairs in an old style building. "You don't find many in Vienna that have two bathrooms and a dishwasher," Mrs. Molzer said.

She will also miss the frozen foods and variety of products available here, but she will be happy to be in Vienna's city atmosphere again with its many shops.

Before sailing to Austria, the three Molzers will take a week's camping trip through the western states to see the biological and geological differences in different areas of the country.

Our men in service

Army Private Lamont Daniel, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Daniel, 28201 Martinville, Belleville, recently completed eight weeks of basic training at the U.S. Army Training Center, Armor, Ft. Knox, Ky.

He received instruction in drill and ceremonies, weapons, map reading, combat tactics, military courtesy, military justice, first aid, and army history and tradition.

His wife, Marty, lives at 13808 Anglin, Detroit.

He is now home on 30-day leave. He will return to Italy Aug. 17 to resume his tour of duty on the Flagship U.S.S. Springfield.

Navy Petty Officer First Class Jimmy L. Angle, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas M. Angle of 29600 Superior Road, and husband of the former Miss Frances C. Miller of 10044 Romaine, all of Romulus, has returned to his homeport of San Diego aboard the attack aircraft carrier USS Kitty Hawk after an eight month deployment to the Western Pacific.

During the cruise, his ship visited the Philippine Islands, Hong Kong and Sasebo, Japan.

He attended Romulus High School.

"RECEIVES AWARD" — Marine Cpl. John W. Celske, son of Mr. and Mrs. Julius J. Celske Sr. of 6329 Central, Romulus, was awarded a Letter of Commendation from his commanding officer for outstanding performance of duties while serving at Marine Barracks, Bremerton, Wash.

Every evening they spend up to three hours on the tennis court improving their game and practicing pointers learned from Van Buren's tennis instructor, Bill Loyd.

"They're no longer beginners," Loyd said describing his pupils. "Peter is good. He's very competitive and he does very well."

Elsi plays a very feminine game, Loyd said. "But she's improved. When she started she couldn't hit the ball."

Elsi admits that it's true. "Every time I played, I had to learn all over to hit the ball right."

It surprises the Molzers that the average American has a sport like tennis available to him as part of his municipal services. They say that in Vienna tennis is a sport of the upper classes who can afford the cost of courts. "We do not have public places to play in Vienna," Molzer said.

RESCUE THE ROUGE 1971 — Members of the Rescue the Rouge Cleanup Committee stand on the bank of the debris filled river while accepting a commendation from the Wayne County Board of Commissioners. The commendation praises the Rescue Committee and urges all citizens to support the project, which is expected to attract some 2,000 volunteers Saturday and Sunday during cleanup weekend. Tom McPhail (third from right), chairman of the Rescue Committee accepts

Rouge clean-up slated

Project set for Saturday, Sunday

The volunteers who last year conducted a massive cleanup of the Rouge River's main branch have announced they will return to the river Saturday and Sunday.

The announcement was made as members of the Rescue the Rouge were awarded a resolution by the Wayne County Board of Commissioners, prior to a short canoe trip through Rouge Park while inspecting debris.

County Commissioners Thomas P. O'Rourke, Detroit (D-Dist. 14), and Charmie Currie, Detroit (D-Dist. 6), stood on the bank of the river July 31 and presented the clean-up committee with a resolution endorsing the project.

The resolution praises the Rescue the Rouge Committee and its participating organizations. It also offers the "wholehearted" endorsement and support of the Board of Commissioners, and urges all citizens to "lend their active support to this most worthy project."

"We are again appealing to private citizens, civic-minded businesses and citizens organizations concerned with the condition of our environment to help in the cleanup," said Tom McPhail, chairman of the rescue the Rouge Committee.

Interested persons can volunteer to help by calling cleanup headquarters at 538-9496 or by coming to Eliza Howell Park, Fenkell — east of Telegraph, at 7 a.m. on the cleanup days, he added.

Last year, an estimated 1,400 citizen volunteers, aided by equipment from City of Detroit departments, utility companies and private firms, removed tons of logs and debris from an eight-mile section of the river between Eight Mile Road and Plymouth Road.

"We cleaned about 85 percent of the junk from that part of the river and will return to finish the job," McPhail said.

"And because of the success of last year's project, we are going to work on another 4 1/2 miles of the river, which will extend our total clean-up area from Eight Mile Road to Warren Avenue."

This year, some 2,000 volunteers are expected to turn out for the weekend cleanup.

The county is assisting in the project through participation by the County Drain Commissioner's Office and the County Road Commission, as well as the Board of Commissioners.

Much of the County involvement is due to urging by the Board's Public Works Committee, chaired by Commissioner Ervin A. Steiner, Jr., of Grosse Pointe Farms (R-District 3).

Upon recommendation by the Public Works Committee, the board recently added $7,500 to the county parks budget to provide heavy equipment and equipment operators for the project.

Several months ago the commissioners increased the budget of the drain commissioner by $10,000, which will provide cranes, dump trucks, and chain saws for the cleanup.

In addition to Steiner, members of the Public Works Committee are:

Edward Jones, Detroit (D-Dist. 16), Vice-Chairman; Charmie Currie, Detroit, D-Dist. 6; James DeSana, Wyandotte (D-Dist. 23); John Lesinski, Dearborn (D-Dist. 20); Richard E. Manning, Redford (D-Dist. 19); Rose Mary C. Robinson, Detroit (D-Dist. 17); John N. Sabo, Jr., Westland (D-Dist. 24); and Eugene A. Sikora, Detroit (D-Dist. 7).

Sponsors of the Rescue the Rouge Committee are the Detroit Outdoorsmen, the Wayne County Sportsmen's Club, District 1 (Wayne County) of the Michigan United Clubs, the Cherokee Circle Civic Association, the Riverdale Park Civic Association, and STOP (Society to Overcome Pollution).

Arts fair set at Wayne State

For the first time an Outdoor Arts Fair will be part of "Detroit Discovery." This is an invitation to artists to participate. The Outdoor Art Fair will be held Saturday, Aug. 21, and Sunday, Aug. 22, from 12 noon to 8 p.m.

Space for the fair will be provided on the Wayne State University Mall behind the Prentiss Building on Cass Avenue between Kirby and Putnam. Work will be accepted Saturday morning without jurying, but is subject to review by an Acceptance Committee. There will be some easels, but artists will be expected to provide their own equipment for material exhibited.

As a civic function, this is a non-profit event and as such no commission will be expected from exhibitors. Acceptable work includes paintings, sculpture, photography, metal, ceramics, weaving, jewelry, enamels and glass. Entry fee is $5.

"Detroit Discovery" has taken place for several years in the cultural center of Detroit. This year's activities cover the period from Aug. 21 through 26. It is sponsored by "Detroit Adventure," the arts council for metropolitan Detroit, the City of Detroit Parks and Recreation and United Community Services. The festival includes events for adults and children of all ages.

For more information on the "Detroit Discovery" or an entry blank for the art fair please write Detroit Adventure, 100 W. Kirby, Detroit 48202 or call 577-2330.

Area students attend Eastern orientation

A number of students from this area, who expect to enroll at Eastern Michigan University in September, attended one-day orientation programs on the campus recently.

During the visit, they received individual and small group counseling and registered for the fall semester. A campus tour, an opportunity to meet other freshmen in residence hall surroundings and 24 hours to become acquainted with campus routines were other parts of the program.

A special parents' orientation was held twice daily. The parents heard talks by university personnel and had a chance to ask questions.

Attending from Belleville were Dennis Bodenmiller, son of Mr. and Mrs. Irving Bodenmiller, 80 Wexford; Scott Fraser, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Fraser, 45323 Harmony Lane; Richard Koski, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Koski, 92 Montague; Catherine Lorenz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Lorenz, 21820 Haggerty; Steve Paulsen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Paulsen, 47252 N. Shore Drive; Mark Pellicchia, son of Mr. and Mrs. Pasquale Pellicchia, 45685 Harmony Lane.

Donnie Hibbits, son of Mr. and Mrs. Don Hibbits, 28597 West Rd., attended from New Boston.

Ronald Wynn, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Swanigan, 11359 Delano, attended from Romulus.

CHECKING OUT THE NEW SURROUNDINGS — Carol Carlson, played by Cathy Wilson, investigates the land around her new home with new husband Knute (left), played by Gary Myers. Mike Morgan played Russ Mason, a ranger, in the Romulus City Players production of "Paddle Your Own Canoe" last weekend.

GRASSMOBILES — A lack of snow is obviously no handicap where these sportsmen are concerned. They raced for prizes Saturday in the second annual Southeastern Michigan

Snowmobile Drag Race held at the Wayne County Sportsman's Club in Romulus.

MORTGAGE FORCLOSURE SALE

Default having been made in the terms and conditions of a certain mortgage given by Florence B. Emerson, Mortgagee, to The National Bank of Ypsilanti, a National Banking Association, mortgagee, dated February 21, 1968, and recorded March 5, 1968, in Liber 16390 at Pages 728 and 729 of the Wayne County Records, Michigan, on which mortgage there is claimed to be due at the date hereof for principal and interest the sum of Four Thousand Sixty Seven and 55/100 Dollars ($4,667.55), including interest at the rate of seven per cent (7 per cent) per annum, and no suit or proceedings at law or in equity having been instituted to recover the debt secured by said mortgage or any part thereof. Now, therefore, by virtue of the power of sale contained in the said mortgage, and pursuant to the statute of the State of Michigan in such case made and provided; notice is hereby given that on Friday, August 20, 1971, at 12:00 noon, local time, said mortgage will be foreclosed by a sale at public auction to the highest bidder, immediately inside the southerly of Jefferson Avenue entrance to the City County Building in the City of Detroit, Wayne County, Michigan, (that being the building where the Circuit Court for the County of Wayne is held), of the premises described in said mortgage, or so much thereof as may be necessary to pay the amount due as aforesaid on the said mortgage, with interest thereon at seven per cent (7 per cent) per annum, and all legal costs, charges and expenses, including the attorney fees allowed by law, and also any sum or sums which may be paid by the undersigned, necessary to protect its interest in the premises. Which said premises are described as follows:

Situated in the City of Wayne, County of Wayne, and State of Michigan, described as follows, to wit: lots 66, 67, 68, 69 and 214 Louis Savage Garfield Park Sub of part of the NW 1/4 and part of the SW 1/4 of Section 31, T2S, R9E, Nankin Township, Wayne County, Michigan, as recorded in Liber 50, Page 85, Wayne County Records.
The redemption period as determined by said statutes annotated 27A, 3240 is six months from the time of such sale.

2-In Memoriam

MY BROTHER Jerry, is missed so awfully bad. Butch Watkins, 34966 Richard St., Wayne.

IN LOVING memory of our beloved son Thomas Lee Harden who God called home one year ago Aug. 13, 70. A happy home we once enjoyed how sweet the memory still, but since you left there's a loneliness only God can fill. Memories are treasures no man can steal, and a heartache the world cannot heal. Our love grows deeper, although your gone, and we'll always remember no matter how long. May God keep you in his loving care till we meet on heavenly shores. God only loaned you to us for 15 happy and wonderful years. Sadly missed by Mom, Dad, twin Timothy Jay, Eglene, Karen, Mark, grand-parents and many aunts, uncles and relatives and friends.

3-Cards of Thanks

WE WISH to thank all of those who donated blood and sent flowers, cards and money to Terry Allen during his recent illness. Signed: George and Betty Allen and Family.

Local cheerleaders attend Eastern clinic

Eastern Michigan University's cheerleaders classes, Aug. 9-13, are being attended by seven cheerleaders from Huron Junior High School.

At the cheerleading clinic are Carolyn Insko, 1300 Willcarleton Dr., Carleton; Linda Cook, 20053 Merriman Rd., and Donette Russan, 28545 King Rd., both of Romulus; Anne Dugan 36858 Ellis; Royale Morrison, 22440 Dickenson; Millie Forest, 30395 Van Horn Rd., and Cindy Batta, 29350 Grix Rd., all of New Boston.

They are being sponsored by Sharon Claus, of Riverview.

The clinic is conducted by Mary Evelyn Thurman, internationally known clinic director, teacher and judge. In February, 1969 she was selected by the National Baton Twirling Association as the "Teacher of the Year".

All phases of cheerleading, baton twirling, majorette work, drum majoring plus a special concentrated pom course will be covered by a highly trained teaching staff. The clinic provides an opportunity for those interested in these fields to study from top experts. Students may enroll in one division or a combination.

The clinic is open for all ages and all levels from the beginner to the advance. School groups receive one free private lesson per day. Eight hours of class work is offered per day for each student. A personal interest is given each student. Campus students are housed in the dormitory and are under supervision.

Daily competition will be held in each division for those wishing to participate. Competition will be based mainly on the great variety of new material which the students are learning at the clinic. Ribbons, trophies, medals, Golden Spirit Stick, Golden Baton and scholarships will be awarded.

The Thurman's Clinics are conducted on 12 college campuses in the summer. They are professionally designed and have been nationally recognized and endorsed by top authorities as the finest training schools of their kind in the United States.

Family's miracle started

which is making up late payments on the family's modest home. "We have enough to catch them up to date and a little left to start an account for future payments," said Mrs. Julia Sawmiller.

The account has been established at the Belleville office of National Bank of Detroit.

Besides back house payments, Mrs. Sawmiller is worried about laundry problems.

"The family doesn't have a washer or dryer," she explained, "and they have to use lots of linens. I wish someone would take on that project for us."

Deposits at the Manufacturers National Bank of Romulus began Thursday, reported Manager Leo Kalota. To date 23 people have added to the fund in amounts between $5 and $100 totalling nearly $300.

"We have some pretty nice people," Kalota said.

Other contributions have come from Kelsey-Hayes employees, General Motors salaried employees at the Wayne plant, Wayne PTA, Hoot's Boots, Foodville Market, Dancer's Apparel Shop, Manning's Department Store, Kureth's Apparel Shop, the Ben Franklin Store and Beck's Groceries.

Each day's mail brings cards, letters and inspirational messages from sympathetic readers. Mrs. McGinnis has them taped to the wall over her bed. She appreciates the many prayers that have been offered for her. "I never thought people cared," she said.

Franz called it a beginning. "The hardest part may be ahead of us. I just hope people don't forget."

Those who wish to help the McGinnis family may send contributions to the McGinnis Fund, care of The Van Buren Civic Association, National Bank of Detroit, 397 Main Street, Belleville, 48111; The Manufacturers National Bank, Box 185, Romulus, 48174, or to the family at 39820 Huron River Drive, Romulus 48174.

Mrs. Sawmiller may be reached at 697-8246 and Franz at 941-6772.

Belleville reunion planned

The Belleville High School graduating class of 1966 is planning a 5-year class reunion to be held later this year.

Organizers are presently attempting to compile addresses and correct names of all members of the class.

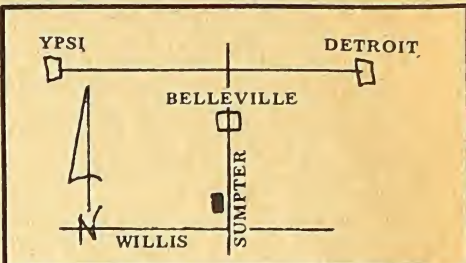

Those who have not been contacted regarding the reunion are asked to call or send their name and address to either Mrs. Carolyn (Bunyea) Weidmayer, 40589 Alden Dr., Belleville, 697-0511, or Mrs. Dawn Springer, 7822 Marlow, Belleville, 697-8706.

In Romulus slo-pitch

Spearman's trips Baum

Spearman's Fine Foods swept a double header from Baum Funeral Home Sunday to capture the playoff championship in Romulus slo-pitch action. Spearman's nipped Baum in the first game, taking a 3-2 verdict, and came back to win the nightcap by a score of 8-5.

Baum dumped Spearman's 7-6 on Thursday, then beat Morgan Manor by a score of 8-2 on Friday to advance to Sunday's final playoff round. Spearman's battled back after losing to Baum to trounce Romulus Progressive by a score of 22-2 and moved into a rematch with Baum in the final by disposing of Morgan Manor by a score of 6-5 on Saturday.

Sunday's opening contest saw Spearman's draw first blood when Walt Gosckel reached first base on an error in the first inning. Rich Spearman tripled, sending Gosckel home with the first run of the game. Ken Menkevich singled to send Spearman home with the second run of the inning.

Baum came back in the third when the Marken brothers, Don and Rich, both reached base, and Don came home on a big single. Baum knotted the score at two runs apiece in the fifth with Hartford and Healy singled and Hartford came home on a sacrifice by Rich Marken.

Walt Gosckel, opened the sixth for Spearman's with a single and Al Ott forced Gosckel. Ott moved to third on a single by Spearman and scored on a sacrifice fly by Menkevich. Spearman's held Baum in the seventh, forcing a second game in the final playoff series.

Darwin Wessel started things off for Spearman's in the second game with a walk in the first inning and moved to third on Bill Tomey's single and scored on a sacrifice fly by Ott. Spearman's added a pair in the third when Bill Soave and Gary Noulung singled and Wessel lofted a sacrifice fly that scored Soave. Tomey lashed a single that sent Nowling headed for the plate.

Baum came back to make it a close game in the sixth inning when Don Marken singled and brother Rich reached base on an error. Ted Marken lifted a sacrifice fly scoring Don Marken and Kampsen's single scored Rich.

Spearman's took control of the game with three runs in their half of the sixth inning on singles by Kittle, Menkevich, Lagasse and Tryon and a sacrifice fly by Nowling.

Richard Spearman led all the Spearman hitters through the playoffs, carding an impressive .555 mark for his efforts at the plate. Paul Tryon and Bill Tomey hit at an even .500 for the playoff champions.

Pettus sets new record

Garrade Pettus may have graduated from Belleville High School in June, but he continues to leave his mark in the high jump, this time at the Jaycee's National Junior Champ Meet in Bowling Green, Ohio.

Pettus set a new meet record in the high jump with a leap of 6'8 1/4" in competition held last weekend, he was also named the meet's most outstanding performer.

Sports retort

It's more than a contest

By Dann Barkume

The Detroit Metropolitan Youth Physical Fitness Meet at Lower Huron Metropolitan Park just outside Belleville a short while ago wasn't just another contest to see which kid was the strongest on the block, it was a lot more than that. It was a contest all right, but one that was organized and developed with the full intent of developing young talent, rather than a contest to see which youngster is the strongest in his particular peer group.

The American Legion annual sponsors the event, providing trophies for each of the first three finishers in each of three classes in each event. Several members of the Legion were on hand last Thursday, including the national field representative, who came all the way from Indianapolis, the State Commander of Michigan, and several high ranking officers from the state organization.

Mayors, councilmen, city managers and members of the Board of Commissioners of the Huron Clinton Metropolitan Authority were also on hand to view the competition, and several spectators managed to find parking places and made their way to watch just what was going on.

Next year, the event will switch to Metropolitan Beach.

Kids take the show

The real stars of the show are the contestants, all 2,000 and some of them, ranging in age from 10 to 15. They came from as far away as Port Huron just to compete, and compete they did.

I didn't even want to try and talk to some of them, if they were winning they were ecstatic, if they happened to be down lower in the scoring, they were on the verge of tears. Their determination to be successful sometimes got the best of them.

For all they knew, it could have been Munich, or Mexico City, or Tokyo or Rome, or any city that becomes a hotbed of athletic excitement during an Olympic year. For all they cared, the only important thing was to do their best and hope that nobody else could do better. The determination on their faces told the story.

Their eyes were wide, their fists clenched, and there was always that great big grunt to get themselves moving just before they went into competition.

It was really something to watch.

A lot of ballyhoo has been given to the team championships (Detroit and Warren) but the highlight is the individual competition. Team championships are relatively unimportant, they mean nothing to the competitors themselves.

They try harder

What do you say to a 13 year old who was trying so hard to win a race, finally gets the lead, and falls 10 yards short of the finish line. Needless to say, the poor youngsters didn't want to get up at all.

Another youngster, he looked to be 10 or 11, didn't do so good in his event. He was standing off to the side his father was talking to him and his mother came up and asked how he did. The young fellow just stood there and cried. His father finally spoke up, "We did our best, Mom, but we'll have to wait until next year."

The meet was the culmination of local competition in all of the cities who sent representatives to the meet at Lower Huron. Each contestant was already a champion having previously won in competition in his or her hometown.

Van Buren Township sent a contingent, but they didn't fare too well as no one could muster a first, second or third place finish in any event. They tried, though, and that's the important thing.

Nationals lose in district play

Belleville's National All-Stars were eliminated from the Little League Inter-District Tournament 2-1 by Grand Rapids in Jackson last Wednesday.

The Grand Rapids team scored two first inning runs without the aid of a hit and then made the advantage stand up throughout the remainder of the contest. Two walks, a passed ball and a throwing error produced the two runs for the winners.

Belleville's only score came in the second inning when Dave Lundell of the Giants cracked a home run to left field with the bases empty. It was the second four bagger of the Little League playoff tournaments for Lundell and the ninth for the Belleville Nationals.

Belleville threatened several times after the second inning, but Grand Rapids checked off each rally, holding the locals to just one run. Belleville had the bases loaded in both the second and fifth innings, but called third strikes ended both threats.

Danny Peterson suffered the loss, though he gave up only three hits. Belleville carded seven base hits.

Belleville wears the District 3 crown, while Grand Rapids South represented District 9.

Grand Rapids will advance to the final of Inter-District play.

row: M. Sheffer, A. Alrson, J. Wensko and H. Dubisky. Second row: J. Vieth, M. Mason, R. Champagne, J. Neff and J. Sramp. Back row: F. Rirhan, D. Linderman, T. Toporek, Mr. Perick, B. Ashley, S. Bearbien and A. Moormaw.

Big grid classic still held up

Michigan and Michigan State will meet in their annual gridiron classic at East Lansing on Saturday, Oct. 9, but the starting time is uncertain and may remain so until as late as Oct. 7.

The kickoff for the annual battle will be either at 11:50 a.m. or 2:05 p.m. Eastern Standard Time.

The determining factor will be how the Oakland Athletics of the American League fare in the remainder of the regular baseball season and in the American League playoffs, should they make them.

If Oakland wins its divisional title and the subsequent playoffs with the Eastern Division winner of the American League, thus gaining the World Series, the Michigan-Michigan State football game will get underway at 11:50 a.m.

Michigan and Michigan State has been selected for national television as the college game of the week on that Saturday, and Oct. 9 is also the opening date for baseball's World Series. To bring the action to the greatest number of fans, all concerned parties have agreed to hold up the starting time to avoid a direct conflict.

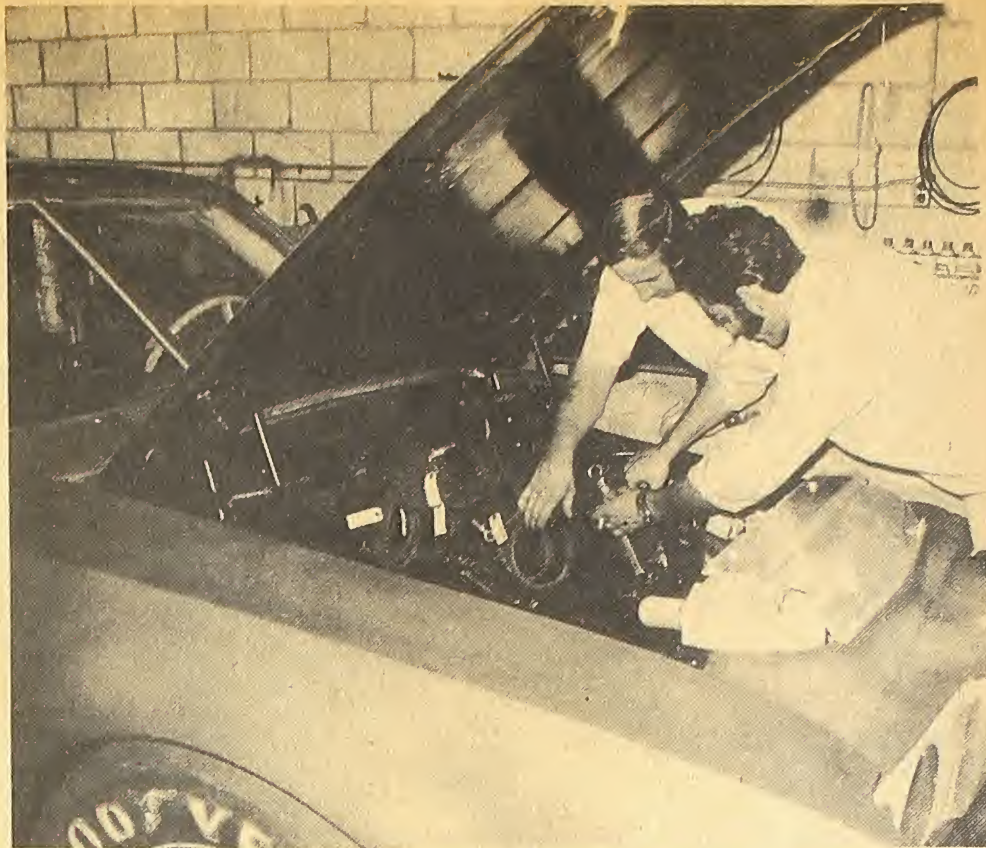

It could be as late as Oct. 7 before the starting time for this year's battle

HEADED FOR MIS — Chet Kosin, of Kosin's Auto Parts in Inkster has decided to try his luck at Grand National Stock Car Racing, and hopes to be at the Michigan International Speedway next weekend for the Yankee 400. Kosin has lined up Lee Roy Yarborough to drive the car and has a capable crew of mechanics, headed by James (Hammer) Mason, left above, as he and Tim Mroz check out the engine during preparation of the car.

Yarborough to pilot Kosin's stock entry

By DANN BARKUME
Sports Writer

Chet Kosin, who resides in Belleville and operates Kosin's Auto Parts in Inkster, had decided to try his luck at Grand National Stock car racing. He put out some feelers, and came up with a car offered for sale by Holman and Moody in Charlotte, North Carolina. The result in a 1969 Mercury, now owned by Kosin, being prepared for the 1971 version of the Yankee 400, to be run next weekend at Michigan International Speedway, near Irish Hills.

Kosin has contracted James "Hammer" Mason as his crew chief, and Mason proceeded to get stock car legend, Lee Roy Yarborough, to drive the car. With a pair like that, Kosin should feel rather confident next Sunday as his car enters its first big race.

Mason and his crew are in the process of putting a new engine in the car and dressing up the exterior with bright red, white and blue paint. "We're putting a 427 Tunenelport engine in it and we are completely building the car up underneath too, from the transmission right back," Mason said.

The car was shipped here from Charlotte, and arrived early Tuesday afternoon. Mason and his crew have been working day and night ever since, getting the car in shape and trying to make the first round of qualifying, scheduled for Thursday.

"We should be ready by Wednesday night," Mason said. "By that I mean, in the pits at the track and ready to start qualifying tests on Thursday."

All mechanical work in preparation for qualifying will be carried out at DST industries, located on Trowbridge, just south of Michigan Ave. in Dearborn Heights.

Working with Mason on the crew are, Mose Nouband, Tom Mason, Bud Mason, Tim Mason, Bill Smith, Jim Mroz and Paul Young, Yarborough, 31, from Columbus South Carolina, and one of the premier big time stock drivers in the country, is expected to join the crew later this week, just prior to the beginning of qualifying rounds.

Kosin, who lives in Belleville, is enthusiastic about the idea of building and running his own stock car. The car has been assigned number 87 and has been christened "Kosin's Auto Parts". Mason is no stranger to Grand National racing. "I built a car back in 1955, and Lee Roy and I have worked together several times before."

Mason added that it takes between $20,000 and $22,000 to purchase and prepare a grand national car for competition today.

Mason called Yarborough a little more than a week ago, asking him if he would drive the car in the Yankee 400. Yarborough, who was in the hospital at the time, said he would get back in touch with Mason and called back last Thursday to announce that he would accept the offer.

If everything goes well, Yarborough will get his crack to test the new car at the MIS track during qualifying runs, scheduled for Thursday, through Saturday. The race will be run on Sunday, August 15. The infield will be open to the public beginning on Saturday at 8 p.m.

Chet Kosin has his first Grand National stock car, he has a crack pit crew and a top driver who has lots of experience. He has every reason to feel excited and confident that his first venture into big time auto racing will prove to be successful.

Romulus sets physicals

The time is fast approaching when football will be the big thing on the sports scene, and Romulus is getting ready for another little league football season. The Romulus Flyers are making preparations for another season, and next week is the time for all interested youngsters to get ready for practice.

The Flyers will hold their first practice on Monday, August 16, at 4:30 p.m. at the Romulus High School athletic field.

A registration fee of $10 per family will be charged, and all youngsters are to report to practice with birth certificates and proof of physical examination.

The youngsters are asked to wear a T-shirt, shorts and tennis shoes.

Any problem with acquiring equipment can be handled through the Flyers. A package deal is being offered, and all necessary equipment can be purchased through the team for a flat sum of $11.

The boys taking part must be between the ages of nine and 12 years old and must weigh between 65 and 125 pounds.

Any further questions or for further information, persons should call 941-0627.

Physicals for Romulus High School football players will be given on Monday, August 16 at 10 a.m. at the high school. Anyone interested in going out for football is requested to be at the high school for a physical. A $2 fee will be charged.

SAFE AT THE PLATE — Walt Brewno of Spearman's Fine Foods slides safely to the plate well ahead of an attempted tag by Dan Lagassi, catcher for the Romulus Progressives. Spearman's went on to win the game by a score of 22-2, and rallied all the way from the loser's bracket to take a pair from Baum's Funeral Home in the Romulus slo-pitch league playoffs to take the championship. Spearman's defeated Baum by scores of 3-2 and 8-5.

ON TO JACKSON — Belleville's Little League, District 3 Champions, smile for the photographer as they headed for Jackson on the next leg of their bid for the state little league crown, they weren't quite so happy later, however, as they dropped their first game. Several officials were on hand and also posed with the team. Front row, from left, Chet Wojcie, association president, Doug Webster, president of Belleville's

Law course to benefit UR worker

A weeklong course on the law, designed to benefit laymen, is in progress at the University of Detroit.

Mary Carter, of the Romulus Urban Renewal Department, is hoping to gain some insight into legal problems during the course which will aid her in her work on the Wayne-Beverly Urban Renewal Project.

The course, which runs Monday through Friday this week, contains sections dealing with real estate, wage assignment, civil suits, house buying, mortgage foreclosure and other topics which could be useful in sorting out urban renewal problems.

In addition, Mary says she hopes to learn enough to be able to refer people who seek advice from her department on a variety of other problems, such as child support. She said she would like to be able to tell them exactly where to go to find answers to their problems.

The Romulus City Council approved a request for payment of the $90 fee, which will come out of the city's urban renewal budget.

Mayor Hyle J. Carmichael sees the course as a means to "make her even more qualified than she already is."

Van Buren tells building report

The Van Buren Township Building Department collected $775 in fees for projects, including seven one-family residences, valued at more than $236,000.

Commercial fees amounted to $185. They were collected for structures other than buildings valued at $7,000.

Mechanical permits, numbering 57, brought in $2,119, electrical permits and registrations $590, heating permits and registrations $590, heating permits and registrations $90 and plumbing permits and registrations $1,439.

All together, 104 permits for July took in fees amounting to $3,079.50 for projects valued at $243,696.

Metropolitan Parks draw big crowds

More than 1,541,534 visitors came to eight Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority parks in July of 1971 compared to 1,524,623 visitors at seven HCMA parks in the comparable month of 1970.

Kensington Metropolitan Park near Milford, Lower Huron Metropolitan Park near Belleville and Delhi, Dexter-Huron and Hudson Mills Metropolitan Parks showed increased attendance this July over the same month in 1970, while both Metropolitan Beach and Stony Creek Metropolitan Park had less patronage in July of 1971 compared to July of 1970.

Metropolitan Beach along Lake St. Clair near Mt. Clemens had 363,900 visitors, a decline from the over 402,700 visitors in July of 1970 and below the record of 449,700 visitors in July of 1968.

Kensington Metropolitan Park near Milford had 401,000 visitors, which is an increase over the 380,000 visitors reported for July of 1970, but below the record high of 490,000 set in 1968.

Lower Huron Metropolitan Park had 294,600 visitors, which is an increase over the 261,900 persons using the park in July of 1970, but below the record high of 348,300 set in 1961.

More than 86,494 persons visited the three HCMA parks in Washtenaw County during July of this year compared to 68,323 persons in July of 1970 and 61,730 in July of 1969. Compare park totals are: Hudson Mills - 31,596 (29,290); Delhi Park - 30,670 (22,026); and Dexter-Huron Park - 24,228 (17,007), with each park hitting record figures compared to 1970 and 1969. (No figures were taken prior to 1969).

Willow Metropolitan Park, a new 1,500-acre site under development near Willow and New Boston, had 14,740 visitors in July of this year, with no attendance taken in 1970.

County funds sought for developing parks

The Van Buren Township Supervisor G. Elton Gollwitzer is hoping to obtain county help soon in developing recreation areas in the township.

Gollwitzer said last week that he has applied to participate in a program in which the county utilizes people who are on relief to work on various county-sponsored projects.

Gollwitzer indicated that since the township has no recreational appropriation, these are jobs that would not get done any other way.

One area under consideration for work is a lot near the township offices which is presently too rough for recreational use.

Two other areas are located in the Van Buren Estates subdivision. They were included in the plans for the subdivision by the builder, but the township has the responsibility of developing them as recreational facilities.

Gollwitzer said that although there are no present plans for equipping these play areas, provisions would probably be made in the future to do so.

Belleville reunion is planned

Romulus residents have been invited to a picnic and family fun day.

Sponsored by the Romulus Neighborhood Coalition, the event is scheduled for Saturday at the East Bend area of Lower Huron Metropolitan Park.

The family day will begin at 10 a.m. and will continue until 2:30 p.m. with games, activities and refreshments. The first event will be a bicycle race following by tire marathons, sack races and a volleyball game.

Coalition members - Stonewall Whitworth, Dorothy Martin, Carmanella Smith, William Jones, Christine Anderson, Mary Hearst, Lois Hill and Tyrone Phenix - are hoping for a big turn-out of families.

Those interested in registering for the bicycle races may call 941-9590 between 9 a.m. and 5 p.m. before Friday.

Council meeting tomorrow

The Romulus City Council meets tomorrow night at 8 p.m. in the council chambers at city hall.

On the agenda is the quarterly report from the Board of Appeals, and regular reports from the mayor and council chairman.

Unfinished business will include a summary of the 1971 water and sewer extension bids, approval of a business license for Van Born Auto Wrecking, and consideration of ordinances concerning urban renewal, trailer courts and subdivision control.

At Methodist Church

Attendants don pastel frocks for Armstrong-Ferrett vows

The First United Methodist Church of Belleville was reserved July 31 for the wedding of Janet Arlene Ferrett of Belleville and Richard John Armstrong of Ann Arbor. Their double ring vows were repeated before the Rev. Charles Dibley and some 200 assembled guests at six in the evening.

Traditional bridal music was played on the organ by Mrs. Glenn Miller as Janet approached the altar on the arm of her father.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E.W. Jack Ferrett of 122 South Street, Belleville, the bride appeared in a creation of silk organza and Chantilly lace. The little fitted bodice was fashioned with a high neckline and long bishop sleeves cuffed with rows of lace with a lace-trimmed cathedral train adding back interest.

A CAMELOT BONNET of Venetian lace studded with seed pearls and crystals secured her elbow-length illusion veil. Cascading white carnations centered with a white lily completed her bridal finery.

Pastel frocks were chosen for the quintet of bridal attendants who preceded the bride up the white-carpeted aisle. Patrice Gervick of Ypsilanti as maid of honor donned a full-length gown styled with a lavender lace bodice and lavender brocade skirt. Matching ribbon was woven into her upswept hairdo and matching flowers and white mums were used to form her bouquet.

The bride's sisters, Cathy and Marilyn, carried out the roles of bridesmaids along with the bridegroom's sister, Patricia Tremblay of Glendale, Arizona; and Nanette Jones of Ypsilanti. Their ensembles were identical to that of the honor maid.

THE CORPS of groomsmen was headed by Wilder W. Woods of Ann Arbor as best man. Ushers were Darryl Andrews, Terry Weaver, and the bridegroom's brother, Douglas Armstrong, all of Ann Arbor; and David Tremblay of Glendale, Arizona.

At the UAW Hall, Ypsilanti, where the reception was held, Mrs. Ferrett greeted guests in a sleeveless pink chiffon dress with a matching lace coat and white accessories while the bridegroom's mother chose a two-piece aqua ensemble with matching accessories. Both were presented with cymbidium orchid corsages.

Currently honeymooning in northern Michigan, the newlyweds will make their home at 10634 Ruston Road, South Lyon, on their return.

The new Mrs. Armstrong, who is employed at Ypsilanti State hospital, is currently in her sophomore year at Eastern Michigan University.

The bridegroom, son of Mr. and Mrs. Russell B. Armstrong, Jr. of 2429 Dayton Drive, Ann Arbor, will be a junior at E.M.U. this fall. He is employed at Viscount Pool and Sports.

MR. AND MRS. CRAIG A. STABNAU

Stabnau-Schell vows exchanged

A lawn reception at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Schell of 50165 Expressway, Belleville, followed the July 24 wedding of Karen R. Schell and Craig A. Stabnau at the First United Methodist Church of Belleville.

Craig, who is currently serving with the U.S. Air Force at Wright-Patterson Air Force Base in Fairborn, Ohio, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Stabnau of 88 S. Biggs Street, Belleville. The newlyweds honeymooned enroute to their new home at 317 E. Emerson in Fairborn.

Former Belleville pastor, Rev. George Q. Woomer, read the double ring service, which united the young couple in holy matrimony, at four thirty in the afternoon.

Organist Gwen Ash played traditional wedding selections while Dave Kingsley accompanied himself on the guitar as he sang two solos, "Since You've Asked" and "The Song is Love."

ESCORTED TO the altar by her father, Karen appeared in a toe-touching gown of silk organza and Venetian lace, the lace forming a wide 'V' panel on the bodice. Other styling details included a high neckline and lace-cuffed bishop sleeves. The softly-gathered skirt was accented with a wide bow at the back from which the chapel train drifted as she walked.

Her bouffant veil of silk illusion was caught to a lace cap, scalloped at the crown and sprinkled with seed pearls. A colonial arrangement of white daisies completed her ensemble.

Barbara Schell was her sister's only attendant and Jeff Stabnau served as his brother's best man. Close friends, Jeff Crow and Gary Fulton, both of Belleville, carried out the duties of usher.

Miss Schell's floor-length frock was a floral print with lavender predominating. The scooped-neck bodice was fashioned with full sleeves and a high-rise waistline traced with lavender ribbon.

Her picture hat was also banded in lavender and she held a shallow basket of white daisies.

MRS. SCHELL selected for the occasion a pale blue, cotton lace dress to which she added her corsage of blue-tipped white carnations. For her son's wedding, Mrs. Stabnau donned pink crepe and a corsage of white carnations edged in pink.

Both Craig and Karen are Belleville High School graduates. He later attended Washtenaw Community College and prior to her marriage, she was employed at the University of Michigan.

Colors reveal character

We are learning that color is more than fashion, both in clothing and home decorating. It's not just that color preferences often reveal our character: color can affect our behavior, our sense of well being.

Faber Birren, world famed color analyst, says "that we are affected by color whether we want to be or not...light and color undoubtedly affect body functions, just as they exert influence on mind and motion."

"It may be generalized that color affects muscular tension, cortical activation (brain waves), heart rate, respiration, and other functions of the autonomic nervous system - and certainly that it arouses definite emotional and esthetic reactions, likes and dislikes, pleasant and unpleasant associations."

So it behooves us to use color with care, especially where it will be around for many years. When choosing home furnishings you must consider, for example, that a vinyl asbestos tile floor will last at least 20 years - a long time to live with the wrong color choice. Experts believe it is a good idea to install a neutral color tile. Then you have more leeway when selecting colors for furnishings that wear more quickly. Of course, if you know that you will never tire of a warm, red Spanish pattern tile, go ahead. If your ardor cools, you can cool the floor down with neutral walls, drapes and upholstery.

Cover up shelves with tiles

If your closets and storage areas are full to overflowing, don't despair. You probably have the space - you just lack the means. Shelves hung on the wall and narrow multiple-purpose cabinets will solve the problem.

A good decorating ploy is to cover the shelves with the same tile used on your floors. The new adhesive-back vinyl asbestos tile is ideal for this purpose. It is easy to handle - all you do is peel a paper from the back and press the tile in place - and it can be cut to fit with an ordinary scissors. Standard edging trim may be used if desired.

This tying in floor-and-shelf is simple but effective.

Anniversary planned by Club

The Huron Valley Garden Club met at the Hilton Inn, Romulus, for its August 2 breakfast meeting. The daisy-basket centerpiece was made by member, Madelyn Blend. President Gladys Mast conducted the business meeting at which final plans were made for the silver tea September 13 in celebration of the club's 25th anniversary. All present and former members are being invited to attend.

A new member, Mrs. Glenn Miller, was welcomed by the group.

Story hour at library set for tots

Miss Helena McCullough cordially invites the younger set - four to seven year olds only, please - to an Indian Story Hour at the Belleville Library. The date is Wednesday, August 18, and the time is 9:30 to 10:30 a.m.

There will also be a second Story Hour a week later on Wednesday, August 25, same time, same place.

Freezer facts

Here's another no-nonsense money saver. How about keeping an up-to-date inventory of the food in your freezer plus its location in the freezer? That way you get what you want with less fuss and the cover or door of the freezer is not kept open over a prolonged period of time. Electric engery saver? You bet!

It's a boy for Cabanas

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cabana, Jr. of 169 Second Street, Belleville, are proudly announcing the arrival of an 8 lb.-1/2 oz. son, Casey Charles, July 31 at Oakwood Hospital, Dearborn.

The new mother is the former Sandy Daroci, daughter of brand-new grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Daroci of Angola Street. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cabana, Sr. of Ayres Street welcomed Casey as the third grandchild on their family tree.

Down River group plans annual picnic

Plans have been made by the Down River Association for Retarded Children for the first annual picnic fund, raising at Handler's Park in Trenton on Sept. 5.

The picnic will begin at noon and last until 8 p.m. There will be barbecued chicken, hot dogs, chips, pop, games, prizes, moon walks, rides for youngsters and a live band for the teen-age crowd. The public is invited to bring their friends, relatives, neighbors, in-laws, and especially the kids to the last big summer picnic of the year.

The Down River Association is being assisted by the Knights of Columbus, Chapter 1802. The day will be climaxed by the drawing of the winning cash money raffle tickets that are currently being sold by the members of the Down River Association for Retarded Children. First prize will be $500.

Washer ideas

Besides wasting water and the electricity it takes to heat that water, here's an energy-saving reminder: plan to wash clothes when enough items are soiled to make a full load.

Also, on new polyester materials that release soil readily, you can reduce the washing time.

Showers honor bride-elect

JANICE OSTROWSKI, who is busy with all those last-minute preparations for her upcoming wedding, enjoyed two fun-filled events recently-showers where she opened scads of gifts for her new home.

Tagging their party 'miscellaneous', Mrs. Jean Ostrowski and Mrs. Mary Dillingham entertained some 55 guests at the Masonic Temple in Belleville. Assisting with the preparations were Mrs. Linda Martin and Mrs. Carol Orlean with Sheryl Martin, who's to be junior bridesmaid, serving punch.

Following several games of bingo and a buffet lunch, Janice opened all kinds of household items with help from her future attendants: Tina Bevard, Debbie Vacek, Linda Martin, and Carolyn Dillingham.

The prospective bridegroom's grandmother, Mrs. Nada Knoop of Plymouth, made the paper doll wedding party which centered the buffet table while the bride-elect's cousin, Louise Bennett, made and decorated the special shower cake. A lilac and poppy color scheme (that of the wedding) was used in decorating.

Janice and her finance, Bill Dillingham, have reserved St. Anthony's Catholic Church for their August 21 nuptials.

ANOTHER RECENT shower for the bride-to-be was held in Dearborn at the home of Bill's aunt, Mrs. William Knoop, who with Mrs. Robert Knoop, hosted a second miscellaneous event.

The Friday evening party included a salad luncheon served at tables centered with yellow and white carnations and pencil games with a bridal theme. About 35 guests watched as Janice unwrapped her gifts. Assisting with the ribbons and wrappings were Carolyn Dillingham and her cousin, Nance Knoop.

Family tree has new addition

THE FREYSINGERS - John and Fran - became grandparents for a second time July 27 with the arrival of their first grandson, John Stewart Freysinger. Born at the hospital where his grandfather is director, Pontiac General, the baby weighed in at 9 lbs. - 2 oz. Tom and Donna Freysinger of Birmingham are parents of the new heir.

Checking further on the Sunrise Lane residents, we found that John and Fran had dined with their former neighbors, the Earl Taylors of Ann Arbor, at Bill Cone's in Jackson. And the following day they celebrated son, Tom's 24th birthday with a cake Beverly had baked and decorated with a miniature tan Volkswagen.

Then there was a letter from daughter, Gail, who's touring Europe with Discovery Youth Chorale which said, "A reception was given in honor of our group in Monte Catini, Italy with our best concert being in Venice where we received a standing ovation."

Gail also had the opportunity to visit Salzburg, Austria, the birthplace of her grandfather, Robert Freysinger; sang with some of the best folk singers and dancers in Austria and Germany; and at the present time is away from the group and visiting relatives in Munich.

Shepherds dine out

THE ARTHUR SHEPHERDS of Elwell Road were dinner guests of their children Sunday at Richardson's in Belleville. The outing was in celebration of their August 8 wedding anniversary - Number 35. Sharing in the festivities were Roger and Diane Ferguson and their trio, Leslie, Shawn and Shari; Jim and Pat Shephard and Brian Shephard.

On returning home, the group presented their parents with a white leather-bound family Bible and towards evening picknicked and swam in the new family co-op pool.

Then on Wednesday the same bunch was together to wish their dad a happy birthday and to add to his collection of fishing gear. Also adding their best wishes were the Fay Fergusons, just in from their trailer vacation at Four Mile Lake, and Jim and Marie Dozer from Ann Arbor.

Group invited to Cape Cod

FIFTEEN LOCAL people learned the meaning of 'togetherness' recently as they shared quarters (and luckily two bathrooms) at Cape Cod. Invited to join Ed and Mary Anne Hudge of Ann Arbor (recently of Belleville) at their summer diggings in W. Falmouth, Massachusetts, the group included Art and Joy Hill and daughter, Diane and Laurie; Gerry and Helen Miller and daughter, Pam; and Bert and Lee Smith and daughters, Sue and Carol, (Luanne staying behind to fill her summer job.)

The Hedges who were at the Cape for six weeks in conjunction with Ed's work at the U-M, had the group out for their final week in the East.

The Hills arrived Friday afternoon, having winged their way to Boston; the Smiths arrived next via Canada and Old Sturbridge Village; and lastly the Millers pulled in on Sunday night.

Greg Hill, who has a new job and apartment in Elizabeth, New Jersey, joined the houseful for the week-end and a week later played host to his family in New York City before their flight home from Newark.

Sisters share same malady

SOUNDS AS IF the miseries come in triplicate for the Collyer sisters since they all ended up in the hospital the week of July 11-17 and all listed as pneumonia patients.

Donna Collyer Demski of Martinsville Road, Belleville, was on the medical roster at Beyer Hospital, while her sister, Sylvia Collyer Fowler of Sherwood Road, Belleville, was at Annapolis Hospital, Wayne. The third member down with the virus was Shirley Collyer Bush of Lincoln Park.

They are all home now and convalescing from their woes (and we bet, comparing notes on their symptoms, treatment, care, etc.) Right, girls?

Club thanked by library staff

MISS HELENA McCULLOUGH has asked us to convey her thanks and that of her staff at the Belleville Library to the Belleville Junior Study Club. Their members, she says, sacrificed two days of their time to selling back issues of magazines for the benefit of the library.

Miss Shar Tator and Mrs. Don White were assisted by Patty Flavell who's enthusiasm, she added, brightened a dark and rainy day. Jim White, Randy Gilman and Dave Dillon also gave a helping hand.

Ann Hope feted at bridal shower

FINDING THEY both had bridal showers planned approximately the same time, Gwen Liebler and Evelyn Giblin combined their efforts and talents and hosted one party Sunday afternoon.

Held at the Liebler's lakeside patio on Ormond Drive, the two o'clock party included a dessert luncheon served from a round table covered in green and centered with a green watering can filled with blue daisies and red and yellow roses, the design of guest, Marge Roberts.

Prior to refreshments the group had enjoyed shower games and then watched the bride-elect open her miscellaneous gifts which had been arranged around a decorated parasol.

Ann is to be married August 28 to Floyd Gillespie. The North Prospect Baptist Church has been reserved for their wedding.

Here 'n there-around town

RECENT HOUSEGUESTS at the John Tononi's Martinsville Road home were their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Errol Gruber of Grand Rapids. The pair was enroute from a week's vacation spent with the Calvin Tononis in Flemington, New Jersey ... 'NOMADS', INCLUDING Clarence Wrighton of Merriman Road, Romulus, were in the Cape Cod area for a three-day week-end recently. The member response was so great that two trips had to be scheduled in July. According to Nomads, the Cape is a community of fascinating villages, beaches and quaint architecture making it an outstanding vacation spot.

SMILING COOKIE CHAMPS—Coming out of a successful cookie sale campaign in first place in the area were the Junior Girl Scouts of Troop 668, Haggerty School, Belleville. The girls sold a total of 1,704 boxes of cookies and earned $85.20 for the troop and $340.80 for Camp Linden Girl Scout Camp.

Soup-er summer

Too hot to cook? Nothing beats the heat like a clever cold soup. Build your own on a pizza-sauce base—a sunny treat that's just the thing to perk up summer-weary appetites.

Mr. and Mrs. John Tontalo have returned from their vacation spent at their cottage at Paradise in the Upper Peninsula.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl McLaughlin of Second St. have returned home from their vacation, visiting friends Mr. and Mrs. John Moore at Evant and also spending some time at Indian River and Burt Lake.

1 can Progresso pizza sauce (15½ oz.)
3 cups milk
1 tsp. sugar
½ tsp. salt
1 Tbsp. chopped chives.

Combine all ingredients. Mix thoroughly. Chill, covered, in refrigerator for several hours. Just before serving, sprinkle with chives (Scallions may be substituted). Makes 5 cups.

A real workout for desk-bound

By MARY SUE MILLER

A careerist Lovely writes: I have been "chained" to my desk in the office more than usual this summer. My vacation is a long way off. I feel the need of exercise - stimulation - meanwhile, I'd like to know a practical way to do it.

The Answer: Many good exercises can be done while you do something else. Talk on the telephone, for instance. Here's a routine:

1. Kick off shoes (under desk of course), raise legs off floor and rotate feet in opposite directions - right foot to right, left foot to left. Ten counts. With legs still up, curl toes under and hold for 10 counts; repeat twice. (Energizes feet and slims ankles).

2. Sitting erect, simultaneously breathe in and pull in stomach; slowly exhale, relax and repeat 10 times. In same starting position, alternately contract and relax buttock muscles, 10 times. (Relieves tension, conditions midriff and controls hipspread.)

3. Hold telephone receiver with both hands, and repeatedly flex upper arm muscles. (Works to firm up arms and back.) All in all, it's a real cool way to work out when you can't get outdoors to exercise. And no one will be the wiser. The exercises are invisible but not the results. Why not make a habit of it?

PASS IT ON

by L.M. Boyd

Mister, if you're 61 years old, you can expect to live at least another 15 years. If you're 56, expect another 18. If you're 51, expect 22 more. If you're 46, expect an additional 26. And if you're 41, count on still another 30 years. So report the insurance statisticians.

You've bobbed for apples, I take it. At a Halloween party maybe. A civilized game. But it's an outgrowth of an uncivilized game. The villagers in old England years ago played what they called Mumble-Sparrow. They clipped a sparrow's wings and put it in a hat. Then a circle of benevolent contestants with their hands behind their backs bumped foreheads to see who could bite the sparrow's head off. Oh, you are a sport, Cynthia!

Customer service: Q. "Where did Russia get its name?" A. From a band of Vikings called the Rus ... Q. "There was the world's worst railroad wreck?" A. In Mondane, France. On Dec. 12, 1917. A passenger train derailed, killing 543 persons ... Q. "What does the name Raymond mean, or what did it mean originally?" A. Wise protection. Our whimsical Name Game man suggests soldiers called Raymond do just dandy on guard duty ... Q. "How much would a million $1 bills weigh?" A. Just 2,340 pounds, I'm told ... Q. "How long does it take the average tonsillectomy patient to recover?" A. 10.2 days.

"Is it safe to feed beer to a baby?" inquires a feminine subscriber. Can't say, that's a medical matter. Wouldn't do it personally, though safe it probably be. It's a fact that when the Nazis confiscated most of the milk from a dairy section of France during World War II, the French mothers thereabouts kept their babies alive on beer.

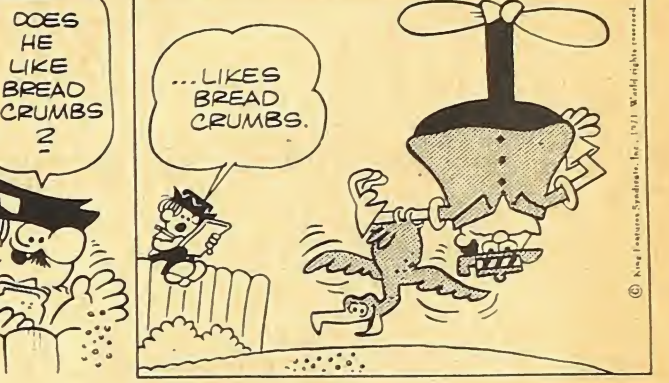

If you stack all the women in the county in one pile and all the men in another, the stack of women will weigh 85 per cent as much as the stack of men ... It was none other than the Duke of Windsor who said, "The thing that impresses me most about America is the way the parents obey their children."

In those tests to determine the masculinity and femininity of individuals, nurses tend to rank high in male characteristics while doctors ordinarily rank fairly high in female traits. Such is widely known. In this connection, what's noteworthy is male nurses rarely show signs of femininity and lady physicians appear to be exceptionally devoid of masculinity. How do you account for this oddity?

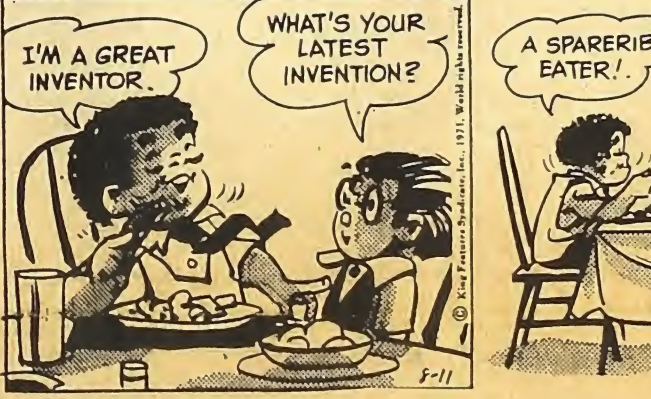

What's the town nearest you with a population of 80,000 residents? Whatever its name, it's about the size of Knossos on the Mediterranean island of Crete more than 2,000 years ago. That was the biggest city in the world right up to the time of Christ.
